We welcomed Melanie Sherwood (Rural Officer, CWAC) to the group

Apologies: Sue Phelan, Brian Leahiff, Simon Sherlock. George Ablett CW&C

1 Autumn Market Saturday 4th September

Alison said the market plans are in hand.

It was decided Allan will approach Warburton's Farm as Such Farm will not be coming. Elizabeth Wilson (Kingsley News) will attend, the artist has been invited and the cheese and chocolate man will also be invited.

Brian is producing a large black and white banner.

Publicity via Kingsley News will be sent for the 23rd August deadline.

There will be about 18 stalls.

Points raised:

We will also advertise through Norley News (as well as Kingsley News) for future events.

Peter Bulmer, Head of Environmental Matters from CWAC, wants to video the market on the 6th September and this was approved.

It was thought it might be useful to have a regular slot for the market and it was proposed that we have the fourth Saturday but we will need to be flexible in December to fit in with Church events.

Alison will provisionally decide on market dates for 2011 and book the Community Centre.

2 9th October Event (2pm – 5pm, at the Community Centre)

Reaseheath will pay for the Community Centre and open the event with a speaker.

Draft title of event: "Sustainability in Kingsley" Signed up so far for stands and possible presentations are: the beekeeper, a local medical herbalist, wildlife conservation, local police, PV and solar power, Zumba music, the Kingsley Cycling group 'Le Velo', Compositing and Love Food Hate Waste (CWAC) and Reaseheath College. Warburtons farm have also been requested to participate.

Kingsley St John's C of E will present what they are doing with recycling and Sue Phelan will be approached to see if Kingsley CP School would like to present their ideas possibly something along the lines of love food hate waste.

Points raised:

Brian to produce leaflets and send one in an email to Melanie Sheward, melanie.sheward@cheshireaction.org.uk

3 Allotments

Brian has the planning application in next Monday (23rd August). The aim is to be ploughing this autumn for next season.

4 Steve Santry

The local Methodist Church Minister Steve Santry has asked if we would like to attend an event he is organising for Harvest at Oultram's Farm on 26th September.

It was decided it would be useful to have a stall at the event with photo's of our markets and publicity leaflets. There would also be some gifts for the harvest and Alison offered eggs and Happy Beef products, Barbara offered some vegetables from the school garden.

Action: approach Sue Wallace who may be interested in helping liaise this.
