EDITORIAL NEWS AND VIEWS

Dear Readers

We would like to thank the local groups for their recent support in ensuring we have more news in the Kingsley News ! You will see this month that we also have several articles from schools and other local groups. The online version of the Kingsley News has additional photographs and is in colour. You can view this at the Kingsley Village Website www.kingsleyvillage.co.uk

Now that we have a little more freedom from the lockdown rules there are finally events taking place this month.

Following the success last month of Kingsley Players production of "TWO" their next production will be "Alice's Quest for Wonderland": Down the Rabbit Hole with Lewis Carroll. This runs from 23-25 July. Get your tickets early.

On 3-4 July Sarah's garden in Crowton will be open to visitors and they are serving cream teas.

The Coffee Morning at the Community Centre takes place this month but please note the date change to Friday 23rd July as it was felt safer to meet up after local covid restrictions are to be lifted.

In August we have the Scarecrow competition on August Bank Holiday weekend.

The Hurst Methodist Church is celebrating its 150th anniversary this year and are hoping to have a combined Harvest Festival and Chapel Anniversary on the 25-26 September.

Finally on 22 August we will be officially opening our new extension at the Community Centre. It would be lovely to see you there.

There will not be a magazine in August, so I hope everyone has a good summer and that by the time our September issue is out, social distancing will be a thing of the past. Fingers crossed.

Elizabeth

The Mills of Kingsley

The Domesday Survey (1086) was the first to gather a record of the people, property and, importantly, the value of the Norman conquest in Cheshire. Part of this valuation were the mills remaining after the land was plundered. Of the pre-Norman Saxon mills, only 18 are recorded of which 8 were on the R.Gow. If there were others, they were destroyed, not working or lost to the past.

Introduced by the Romans, water mills harnessed the power of streams and rivers to initiate the first industrial revolution in Britain. A technology used by the Saxons and extended with the arrival of the Normans. From Domesday to the 1850's, some 700 water and windmills are known based on tithes and an epic survey of the 1970's. Again, many others have dissolved through time to leave no trace. A 1000 mills has been suggested evidenced on field names.

Early water mills were constructed of timber. Many were little more than huts nestled on a small stream, their existence barely recorded in written documents. Maps offered some evidence, but the most useful maps came mostly after the 16th century when many mills had gone. As with modifications and extensions to homes, there were phases of mill building. Some disappeared, others were rebuilt on the same site and, yet others were new build. New designs and materials, improved technology, introducing wind power, encouraged the spread of mills across the county.

Recorded in old manuscripts, estate maps and many other sources, our knowledge of part of the Kingsley Tithe 1845

mills and the fields they occupied, was greatly increased in the mid-19th century by the Tithe Survey. Rather like Domesday, it produced a wealth of information about every Cheshire parish. Every field was mapped with its name, owner and occupier. Lots of other material is contained in the written Award accompanying each map.

In going through every parish tithe in Cheshire, the variety of field names was fascinating, but one was paramount, mill field. Often a field name continued in use for generations and none more so than mill field. Despite hundreds of such fields on tithe maps, only a small number show a mill. Present or not, the name points to the importance of a mill in the community. Through the centuries it meant a watermill, windmill or both, was there in the past and only serious research can resurrect it; the 1970's survey did just that.

Kingsley Community Primary and Nursery School

This week at Kingsley Community Primary School all of our classes have been taking part in our 'Project Week'. Our Key Stage 2 classes have taken on a project each while Key Stage 1 have worked together and Early Years have worked together to develop areas across our school.

Oak Class (Year 6) have revamped our entrance area to school by making some beautiful planters out of tyres that have been kindly donated to us!

Chestnut Class (Year 5) have spruced up their outdoor area to create a calming quiet area for children who want to escape the hustle and bustle of the playground, complete with a sensory garden.

Sycamore Class (Year 4) have cleared and cleaned the pond area, making new signs to display based on their research about pond wildlife. They are also maintaining our allotment area and looking after those fruits and vegetables that are already starting to grow.

Maple Class (Year 3) have been working in our wild area, 'Nature's Nook' to clear and tidy some areas to make the space a fantastic learning environment for all classes in school to visit and use. They've built some climbing equipment and will be hanging up the bird houses that children across the school have created as part of a competition. (See Bird House Competition page in online version of Kingsley News)

Key Stage 1 (Pine Class, Year 2 & Willow Class, Year 1) have worked together to section their playground into areas for the children including a stage, a reading nook, a water play area and a construction area.)

Early Years (Acorn Class, Reception & Seedling & Sapling Class, Nursery) started their project last Saturday with a working party of staff and parent helpers to create a Community Garden in an area of school that was unused. They have created and prepared planting areas for the children to plant this week and ended the week with parents bringing in a sensory plant to plant with their child to embrace that real sense of community.

We have had numerous parent helpers and donations from our families and local businesses, whom none of this would have been possible without. So a huge thank you to our amazing Kingsley Community for your continued support, we truly are grateful!

Kingsley Players

This year marks the 150th anniversary of the publication of Alice's Adventures Through the Looking Glass by Lewis Carroll, born Charles Lutwidge Dodgson at Daresbury rectory in 1832.

To mark this special year, award-winning Cheshire writer Lynn Pegler is shining a spotlight on the author's intriguing double life with the premiere of her new play 'Alice's Quest for Wonderland: Down the Rabbit Hole with Lewis Carroll' on stage for three nights in a production by Kingsley Players, Friday 23 – Sunday 25 July.

This entertaining, new drama explores the fact behind the fiction of the enigmatic author, who spent his first 11 years in the county. Audiences are invited to discover more about the writer's complex life as an Oxford University maths tutor and world famous children's author, and his relationship with the real Alice, who inspired one of the most popular characters in English Literature.

Lynn said: "Lewis Carroll is a fascinating man and it has been a labour of love to delve in depth into his life. The English language is so much richer thanks to his clever, witty creations. In the play, I take on the role of an adult Alice, looking back on her life, and I'm joined on stage by actors James Partington and Simon Hetherington, who between them play more than 20 characters, including her two sons, husband, White Rabbit, Queen of Hearts, Cheshire Cat and of course, Lewis Carroll himself.

"The play features favourite poems, such as the 'Walrus and the Carpenter' and 'Jabberwocky', and I've tried to tell the story of Lewis Carroll and Alice with a surreal, light touch, in keeping with his original fantasy stories.

"Hopefully no-one will lose their heads and the audience will appreciate an enjoyable trip down the rabbit hole to get under the skin of the real Alice and her relationship with this complex, much-loved author.

"Our play has now been cancelled six times at various venues due to covid, so we are desperately keeping our fingers crossed for the end of July!"

Tickets cost £10 each, including a drink. Each performance at Kingsley Community Centre starts at 7.30pm, lasts about an hour, with no interval.

For up to date information and to book tickets, please check website www.kingsleyplayers.co.uk. Tel no 07724 892154.

Suitable for ages 12+.

The play will also go on tour to a number of venues, including the Weaver Words Literature Festival, Frodsham (Friday 3 September). Crowton Church's 150th celebration (Saturday 11 September), Norton Priory (Saturday 6 November) and the Edinburgh Festival Fringe in August 2022.

THE HURST METHODIST CHAPEL.....the third on this site.....
.....is 150 years old this year 1871 –2021

In January 1868 a meeting was held, presumably in the 1818 chapel (the second chapel on the Hurst site) to discuss the building of a new chapel. Mr Samuel Woodward, who at the time was living in Norley attended and, according to his wife Mary in a letter to their son Samuel, promised £25 pounds towards its construction. Mary went on to say ‘that the others (probably all men!) thought this was too little so he promised a further sum if he came to live in Kingsley’. A few years later he did when he bought ‘Mount Pleasant’ Top Road, and became one of 18 Trustees of The Hurst Methodist Chapel.

The first recorded Trustees meeting was held at Frodsham on October 5th 1868 and a second meeting at Kingsley on November 9th in the same year. At this second meeting it was formally moved ‘that there be a new chapel at Kingsley’. A Mr Baker was requested to design and oversee the construction and tenders were to be put out and a public meeting was proposed to promote interest and no doubt for the subscription of funds.

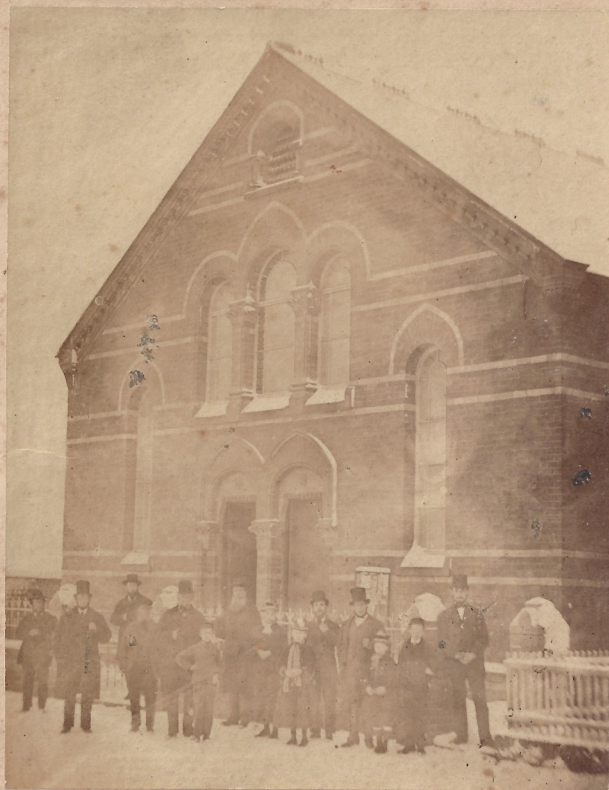

We have very little reliable evidence of what happened after that other than an extract from the Treasurer’s accounts of 1870 – 1871 where it is recorded ‘Balance in hands of Steward for the New Chapel £18-5-9’ and ‘Balance in hands of the Treasurer £4-3-10’.(£1 in 1870 is worth about £120 today). What we do know, albeit a statement of the obvious, it was built! Who were the builders? Having regard to the size of the premises was it really built in a little over a year? Was the 1818 chapel demolished or are some parts of it hidden in the 1871 chapel? It is recorded that memorial stones were laid on September 8th 1870 and the likely dedication of the new chapel was late in July 1871, but where are these stones?

There are more unanswered questions, some speculative answers and information in Peter Robinson’s excellent booklet compiled for the 125th Anniversary of the chapel. (There are a few copies of the booklet available FoC).

The Hurst Methodist Church

The purpose of this brief article is not to list the many changes to our 1871 building in its 150 years but rather to give thanks for the years of worship, prayer, faithful witness and teaching, which has been part of Kingsley village life and beyond.

It is regrettable that in this Anniversary year we have been unable, due to Covid 19 restrictions and the uncertainty that these have brought, to celebrate as we would have wished but we hope that in September we will have a special combined Harvest and Chapel Anniversary on the weekend 25th and 26th.

Samuel and Mary Woodward were Jean's great-great grandparents.
The earliest photograph of the 1871 chapel looks as if it was taken on a Sunday morning in winter. To see an image of this please visit www.kingsleyvillage.co.uk and download the Kingsley News PDF. Brian Moores

Kingsley Bookworms – July 2021

Finally, we managed to meet face to face in June. After 12 months of Zoom meetings, it was great to see everyone. We spent a lovely evening in a garden talking about books. A real treat. That said, we all agreed that Zoom had been invaluable during lock down. We talked about Swansong by Kelleigh Greenberg-Jephcott, based on Truman Capote's life. This book managed to split the group down the middle. Half hated it, while half enjoyed it. Because of this we had a really interesting and wide-ranging discussion about the life of extremely wealthy people, celebrity culture and gossip.

At our July meeting we will be talking about The Mermaid of the Black Conch by Monique Roffey. This is a prize-winning novel described as "an imaginative poetic fantasy built on the mythology and history of the Caribbean". Interviews with the author are available on the Hay Festival site and the National Library. These, along with the reviews are looking very encouraging.

Kingsley Bookworms is a bookclub open to all. We meet monthly and occasionally visit literature events and plays. Meetings are held on the second Thursday of each month and everyone is welcome to join any of our meetings or events. If you'd like to join us or you'd more information, please contact me on vgwillim@coach-work.co.uk or call me on 07799 067 457. We hope to be able to re-establish regular, face to face meetings very soon.

Kingsley Parish Council - July 2021 Update

At the recent Parish Council meeting the accounts for the 2020/21 financial year were agreed and the AGAR signed, the accounts will now be sent off to the independent financial auditor for scrutiny and signing off. The accounts will shortly be available to view on the Kingsley Parish Council website.

The Parish Council are going to be working with St Johns School and a local, village based artist to create a new mural on the concrete wall that runs along the passage between the school and the community centre. This exciting community art project will brighten up the entrance to the school and be seen by all those who pass by. If anyone has any half opened or unused tins of exterior paints that they no longer need, our local artist would love to use them in creating this piece of public art.

Please drop off any such tins by the bench at the side of Boardroom at the cemetery. We hope that the project will begin at the end of this month. For any further information, please contact danny.moore@kingsleyparishcouncil.org.uk

There is going to be a "drive - around" the village by our Ward Councillor Hugo Deynem with Andrew Lewis the CEO of CWaC on the 30th of June. We have been asked to raise two issues that are of concern to the Council. We have therefore asked that Hugo to raise the issues of the condition of both the highway network, pavements within residential area and the state of the PROW network , the number of issues with the general condition of the network, the way people use it, its accessibility / availability to all users and how it might be improved to increase greater, responsible use all need addressing urgently. We have also asked that the issue with respect to Norley Road around Pear Tree and Rose Cottages be looked at with respect to Planning and Highways.

Higher Heyes Update: At the last Parish Council meeting, Torus Housing reported that they had paused extending tier allocations temporarily as they wished to improve options for local Kingsley residents. There is an issue with only a limited number of mortgage suppliers for affordable homes . They are in discussions with CWaC and will revert to the Parish Council with possible new proposals in the near future .

We're Brownie Friends !

Hello everyone..... let me introduce us. We're your local Brownie Unit, covering Kingsley & Crowton & Norley areas. We're known locally as Kingsley & Crowton Brownies and we're based in Kingsley, at the Scout Hut. We're part of Guiding UK, run mainly for girls aged between 7 – 10 years old. You may have seen us parading at Remembrance Sunday....or playing in Kingsley Playing fields or in Castle Park. We're usually the noisy ones !!

We've been a part of Kingsley history since 1929 our first meeting date was on Tuesday 26 November 1929. Contrary to popular rumour amongst the Brownies..... I was NOT present at the time ... !! I came to Brownies a little bit later !! Like a lot of Brownie Guiders, who are all volunteers, I got involved when my daughters joined Rainbows (Guiding group for 5-7 year olds). Unfortunately, we don't currently have a Rainbows Unit in Kingsley. We have a Unit Holiday (weekend) every year in June, unfortunately the pandemic put paid to that recently, but we're booked to resume in June 2022. We stay at the Lodge in Queen Charlotte's Wood in Alvanley – a truly beautiful spot, right on our doorstep. We always have a theme, based on our daytrip out on the Saturday.....Chester Zoo, Blue Planet, Tatton Hall Park Farm ..etc etc... the Brownies have a whale of a time... and us leaders have a bit of a laugh together too !! We have a day out each year at our very own local Round Ponds Adventure with Sally & Joey..... who teach the Brownies to make rafts. Rafts that float too !! Well... they float after a fashion.... but I have to tell you....it's great fun !

Now you know a bit about us....perhaps you'd like to come along and join in ? We definitely need some adult volunteer helpers PLEASE especially ones who are willing to complete the Brownie Guider qualification..... it's not at all hard and you will have a mentor throughout the process. I promiseit's a very rewarding thing to do and the Brownies are a joy to be with. And the Unit is and always has been, an important part of Kingsley village life. If you're interested at all, in helping continue this traditionthen please, don't hesitate to email me for some details at - kingsley_brownies@hotmail.co.uk.

Kingsley Garden Club - July Update 2021

The pandemic appears to be finally coming to an end as we all get vaccinated and it is hoped that we will soon be able to get back to some form of a new "normal".

The Kingsley Garden Club 2021/22 season will hopefully be able to commence in September with a new programme of talks in the Community Centre. At this time we do not know what if any requirements there may be to allow us to meet, but be assured that the Committee will ensure that any meetings will be safe and in accordance with any requirements at that time. It will be 18 months since we last met as a club and we do hope that we can welcome back all our regular friends and indeed many new friends. We have all had time to spending and on our gardens and I am sure that many of you will be looking for tips from our speakers on how to improve your wonderful garden.

We will be welcoming Ann Harrison on the 13th September talking about "Fancy Foliage Plants", so please come along and meet all your friends again and listen to a fascinating talk. It is proposed that membership renewal in September will be reduced to £12 to cover the cost of the forthcoming speakers for 2021/22.

The per meeting attendance rate for those who do not wish to take out annual membership will remain at £4.00 per meeting.

The "Swaps and Plant" Table that was on the verge in Well Lane made £150 for the club which will help to support the costs for the forthcoming speakers.

Top Tips for the month

- Check you clematis for signs of Clematis Wilt
- Don't forget to water your tubs and planters and any new plants with recycled water. Save water you run off to get hot water, use lightly soiled washing up water, reuse as much water as you can. And water at the end of the day.
- Dead head bedding plants, roses indeed any flowering plant to ensure repeated flowering
- Cut back any perennial plants that are past their best
- Continue to tie in climbing plants as they grow
- Start feeding your tomatoes as the flowing trusses appear
- Divide clumps of bearded iris once they have finished flowering.

Where reputation matters

As also experienced by all other uniformed organisations, the past 15 months have been very challenging for Kingsley & Norley Guides. We had a small number of Zoom sessions over lockdown and we finally got to meet in person this term.

We decided to ease back in gently, so we only have 5 meetings this term, all outside - we chose the things our girls traditionally love to do each summer term when we have lighter evenings and (hopefully!) warmer weather.

Our 1st meeting back was at Delamere Forest where we enjoyed catching up with everyone whilst building some shelters. The next meeting was raft building at Round Ponds with the ever fabulous Joey and Sally. We then went paddle boarding at Manley Mere which is always a favourite evening.

Still to come we have a cookout where we light fires and use lots of skills to cook on them whilst simultaneously not letting the fire go out! Finally we will have a fun evening before we break up which will involve chips from 'the chippy'!

Guides start at age 10 - if you are interesting in registering your daughter, or simply finding out more, you can contact us at kandnguides@hotmail.co.uk

We would also very much love to have a 3rd leader join our existing team, so that if one of the leaders has to miss a night, it's easy to carry on without too much disruption. This is a voluntary role, with training and support provided. It's a great role which can also give valuable skills and experience to transfer into the workplace.

The Norley Veg Lady and what's growing now

Hi, my name is Anne - otherwise known as the Norley Veg Lady.

I live at Fingerpost Farm, in Norley, which has been run by the same family for 2 generations.

We grow vegetables in the fields and have many outbuildings which are home to our tractors, and wildlife such as Swallows, Blackbirds and Robins, who nest in them. They have even nested in one of the tractors!

You might have paid a visit to my stall outside the farm gate, especially in the Autumn for Halloween pumpkins! I started selling produce as a hobby, and thoroughly enjoy it. Its farm to fork at its best.

All of the vegetables and plants I sell are either home grown or locally sourced, which reduces the "food miles" which contribute towards climate change. During the summer I have sweet corn, various beans, tender stem broccoli and sometimes tomatoes and peppers. In the winter we harvest carrots, Jerusalem Artichokes, butternut and edible squash varieties, however, Halloween is our busiest time, selling pumpkins and ornamental squash that my customers use for Halloween displays and Jack o'lanterns for the children.

I'll keep you updated with the next available veg we have.
